The British audacity on the sea is most shocking.

A reasonable hope is that the peace party returns in good health.

It would be interesting to know the deer census in Vermont this day.

In the slack times of the granite industry, Bethel is fortunate in having a humming business in the tannery industry. Bethel is by no means a one-industry town.

If it were not for the belief that Charles S. Mellen made quite a success of railroad, we should be inclined to assert that a first-class raconteur was spoiled to make a mediocre railroad official. In the light of Mr. Mellen's evidence during the trial of the 11 directors of the New Haven railroad. His testimony has been rich in personal experiences, as well as in journeys into the financial realm, not the least of which was his purchase of that "perpendicular" farm in southern New England, on which he hoped to spend his declining, or reclining, days.

Montpelier is to be congratulated on the acquisition of two modern business structures to fill the gap on State street made by the disastrous fire two years ago; and the enterprise of the persons lack of the two projects is to be commended in no small measure. Not only will State street, the main thoroughfare of the city, be greatly improved in appearance, but the demands of business will be more nearly met by the modern stores and offices therein afforded. The completion of the structures marks a forward step in the life of the neighboring community and it connotes also that Montpelier possesses the latent power to "come back," as the common expression of the day designates the strength to recoup losses. Another satisfactory evidence.

Salvation Army Appeal.

We hope that the people of this city may come to our aid just as readily as they can to help us in this great effort of supplying Christmas dinners to the needy. We are not as well advanced in our finances as we were last year at this time, and we do want to make this effort a real success this year. Ensign Parsons, officer in charge of the local corps for the past two years, gives her statistics for charitable work alone within those two years, carefully aggregated from the books which each officer keeps at the local headquarters. The statistics for charitable work within the last two years are $420.38.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

INVITES ALL GRANITE MEN

To Attend New Jersey Retail Monument Dealers' Convention.

Editor Barre Times:
Dear Sir—Will you kindly extend, through the columns of your valuable paper, to every granite manufacturer, or wholesale dealer, who reads your paper, a most cordial invitation, in behalf of the New Jersey Retail Monument Dealers' association, to attend their mid-winter meeting which will be held at the Trenton house in Trenton, N. J., on Monday and Tuesday, Jan. 17 and 18, 1916.

It is especially desired by the association that all allied industries, either in supplies, machinery or producers of rough stock, as well as the actual manufacturers of monumental work, be given an invitation to this meeting, and that so far as possible those receiving this invitation, through your columns, avail themselves of this method of getting in close touch with the retail dealers of the state of New Jersey, and they are urged to be present either personally, or by representative, if possible.

It is probable that the meeting on Monday afternoon, Jan. 17, will be an executive session for members of the association only, but this will be followed by a banquet at 6 o'clock in the evening, after which a splendid entertainment has been arranged for, to be open to all the dealers and their friends.

The session on Tuesday morning will probably be open to all, and it is quite probable that on Tuesday afternoon there will be an opportunity to inspect the New Jersey state prison, and more than likely visit the state legislature while in session, while on Tuesday evening (arrangements have already been made (if we care to avail ourselves of them) to visit the big tabernacle to hear the far-famed "Billy" Sunday, who will be conducting a series of meetings in Trenton at that time.

Any dealer who thinks it possible to be represented at this convention should be sure to send his name and address to the secretary, Mr. A. R. Baxter, 862 Centre street, Trenton, before the 10th of January.

Such publicity as you may be able to give this letter will be greatly appreciated. Yours very truly,
New Jersey Retail Monument Dealers' Association.
A. R. Baxter, Secretary.
